MORE COTTON ACREAGE

E. L. SCHUYLER SEES GREAT FUTURE AHEAD FOR CALIFORNIA GROWERS OF STAPLE

E. L. Schuyler and son, H. E., of 330 Ivy, accompanied by Chas. Starkey, a rancher living near Burbank, started this morning by auto for San Joaquin Valley points to investigate the possibilities of cotton growing. Mr. Schuyler recently returned from the Salt River valley in Arizona, nine miles north of Phoenix, where he had been raising cotton on a 35-acre ranch, which he sold before returning to Glendale. He says that the cotton industry there is only seven years old, but already the state has a high reputation for the high quality of its product which is the pima, or long staple variety. While the average height of the plants at maturity are about six feet, Mr. Schuyler says he has seen some grow to a height of 12 feet. As cotton is worth around 90 cents a pound now and the yield this year was very good in the Arizona fields, the planters are jubilant over the outcome and people are flocking in daily to buy ranches. Mr. Schuyler deprecates this wholesale influx to that region as it is sure to react and some will lose money when the inevitable great drop in price comes. He thinks California has better soil for cotton growing than Arizona has and the land does not command the high prices asked in Arizona.

The Imperial valley is already committed to cotton as one of its staple crops and many thousands of acres are already devoted. The acreage the coming year will be larger than ever. Mr. Schuyler says the cotton there grown is a mixture of the pima with the Durango or short staple and does not command as high a price as the straight pima.

FROM PROOFREADER TO EDITOR

J. W. Usilton, for many years a resident of Glendale and employed as proofreader on the Los Angeles Express, has become the editor and proprietor of the Glendale Press, and entered upon his new duties Monday morning. Mr. Usilton is one of these accommodating gentlemen that will give the people just what they want in the way of publicity. Mr. Foltz has become the sole owner and manager of the job department of the Press, leaving Mr. Usilton only with the responsibilities of the newspaper.

COMPLIMENTS NEWS

Mrs. Cora S. Taylor, principal of the Columbus Avenue School who is at Concord, Cal., on leave of absence for a year in the hope of regaining her health, remits for the Glendale Evening News and gives the paper a much appreciated compliment. She says, "The News is much pleasure to me for it keeps me in touch with home. My sister, though unacquainted in Glendale, reads the News daily and pronounces it a bright, clean, newsy little sheet.

HAIR-RAISING TRIP

Tuesday morning about 3 a. m. Dr. C. Stuart Steelman pulled into Glendale after adventures encountered in a trip to Blythe by auto which he says he would not repeat for $500. It appears that in spite of the storm he left Saturday for the booming young city, having received word that his wife was ill. With him was his brother-in-law. It rained from the beginning of their journey, but the further they went the harder it rained, and at Palm Springs the water was descending in torrents and accompanied by a forty-mile wind. When they reached Indio it was descending in sheets. As soon as they had replenished oil and gas they started up the seventeen-mile canyon, which led to the desert where roads practically cease and where the traveler must be guided by the streams in making the journey across it of ninety-two miles. They found it some trick to negotiate the steep descent from the high mesa above Blythe into the city, which is built on adobe soil which has been much thrown up in the improvement operations now going on for the laying of an irrigation system, and before long they sank to the hubs in mud. Extricating themselves somehow they finally reach-

TREES IN NEW PARK

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY TO BE CELEBRATED IN NEW RECREATION CENTER

Thursday, Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, is planned as a great day in Glendale, and it is hoped by the city authorities that participation in the exercises will be general. In the forenoon it is expected that the planting of 3000 trees in the city's parkways will be completed. The trees for this purpose, which were ordered by property owners in January, will be delivered this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon a great tree planting demonstration will be held in the new park at the corner of Patterson and Kenilworth avenues. Five hundred trees are to be set out by 500 men and boys of the city, and it is expected that 500 women and girls will be there to watch them do it. Every lodge, club and other organization in the city is behind the project most heartily and is expected to have representatives present. When the trees have all been planted the "weinie" roast will follow, after which a conference will be held to devise ways and means for the construction of a swimming pool for the boys and girls of Glendale and vicinity.

In the evening, as a fitting climax to the day's activities, there will be held in the High School auditorium a mass meeting which will be addressed by three prominent speakers. Mrs. Leafie Sloan-Orcutt, president of the Los Angeles Park Commission, will talk about municipal recreation and general community development. Ernest Braunton, well known writer and specialist, will expatiate on the city beautiful, tree planting and kindred subjects; George Damon of Pasadena, the well known transportation expert, will talk about city development. This meeting will open at 8 o'clock with Mayor Frank L. Muhleman presiding. There will be music by the High School violin quartet, Faith Tarling, Isaiah Sinclair, Forrest Jordan and Virgil Brengberg. Joe Rhodes will contribute a vocal solo. Stereopticon views will illustrate the theme of the day.

It is hoped and expected that every resident of the city will feel it his or her duty to make tomorrow a great and helpful day for the Glendale valley by taking an active part in all these doings.

A POET DEFENDED

VERSE OF OMAR KHAYAM INTERPRETED BY ONE OF HIS COUNTRYWOMEN

An unusual program delighted members and guests of the Tuesday Afternoon Club at its meeting yesterday at which the chief speaker of the day was Madame Farah Anguize Sprague, a high class Persian lady who renounced her veil and married an American. It would be impossible to picture in words how pretty the little Oriental beauty is in her Persian garb and golden headband, or to reproduce her sly wit and charm which vastly entertained the audience that crowded the auditorium, leaving not a seat unoccupied.

She explained that though she loves far away Persia, she loves all countries and does not feel called upon to defend her native land against the misconceptions caused in the minds of occidentals by the many who come to America and call themselves Persians and are accepted as such because Persia and its people are so unknown here. But when the words of her beloved poet, Omar Khayam, are grossly misunderstood and misinterpreted, she finds it too much to bear and so has put aside her Eastern feminine prejudices and is interpreting to some extent the meaning of his figures of speech which have been construed so literally in this country.

She protested against the biographies which attribute to him an Arabic ancestry because of his name —Omar—declaring that all Persia knows he is pure Persian, the name Omar having been given him out of courtesy to the Moslems who conquered the land four hundred years before his birth. She described the city in which he, as the son of a noble house grew up, a city walled about by mountains and very beautiful in its situation, a city rich in the products which have made Persia famous and a city in which art and letters have flourished; a city in which all the conditions in Omar's time combined to stimulate the production of poetry.

She defended him against the sins

IRISH QUESTION TO THE FORE

LLOYD GEORGE'S HOME RULE PLAN OPPOSED BY LABOR LEADERS; DECLARE IT WILL NOT SOLVE PROBLEM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 11.—"Labor will take no part in another betrayal of Ireland and will not acquiesce in any policy further withholding from the Irish people the symbol of national and political liberty," Arthur Henderson, labor leader, said today.

Commenting on Premier Lloyd George's speech at the new session of the House of Commons yesterday, in which he expressed his intention of bringing up his new Irish home rule bill during the present session of Parliament, Henderson asserted the premier's plan did not have a single friend in Ireland. "Lloyd George's program will not solve the Irish problem," he asserted.

With the reopening of parliament speculation on the Irish question was rife in all quarters. Officials close to the premier declared there has been no change in his plan. His policy will be carried out, they said, unless the coalition government is overthrown.

TREATY RESERVATION AMENDMENTS

NINE ARE OFFERED IN THE SENATE BY SENATOR LODGE WORKED OUT AT BI-PARTISAN CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Senator Lodge offered in the Senate today, nine amendments to the Lodge reservations to the peace treaty. These amendments were worked out in a bi-partisan conference held in Lodge's office recently. They affect: the preamble; withdrawal; domestic affairs; Shantung settlement; naming of American representatives; payment of the United States' share of league expenses; disarmament; status of foreign nationalities under article 16; voting power.

PLOT TO STEAL LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK POLICE BELIEVE THEY HAVE DISCOVERED AGENTS IN BIG THEFTS OF PAST SIX MONTHS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The details of a plot to steal two million dollars' worth of Liberty bonds from Wall Street firms was revealed today by the police following the arrest of three men charged with having stolen securities from Parish & Company amounting to several thousands of dollars. Those arrested are B. J. Furey, a chauffeur; Joseph Gluck and Irving Gluck, bank messengers.

The police believe they have discovered the connecting link whereby a Wall Street concern came into possession of several million dollars' worth of Liberty bonds stolen from firms in the financial district during the last six months.

OIL LAND LEASING BILL

ADOPTED BY SENATE IT GOES TO PRESIDENT WILSON FOR HIS SIGNATURE AFTER 10-YEAR FIGHT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The Senate agreed today to the conference report on the oil leasing bill. The House adopted the report yesterday. The measure now goes to President Wilson for his signature. This marks the end of a 10-year fight to get this legislation through Congress.

DELAYS IN BISBEE TRIALS

IMMENSE AMOUNT OF CLERICAL WORK ATTENDANT UPON HANDLING JURY PANEL HINDERS PROGRESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Feb. 11.—Further delay in the Bisbee deportation and kidnaping cases was occasioned today by an immense amount of clerical work attendant upon the handling of the new jury panel. After a brief morning session the court adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Prosecutor French voiced the fear that undue influence is being exerted on the prospective jurors, and Judge Pattee instructed all persons called for jury duty not to talk to or associate with any one even remotely interested in either side of the case.

STRIKE OF COPPER MINERS

FOUR BIG UTAH MINES IDLE FOLLOWING ORDER OF MINING BRANCH OF I. W. W.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 11.—Four big copper mines in Utah are idle today as a result of the strike called by the mining branch of the I. W. W. Fifteen hundred men are out.

Robert Wills, an I. W. W. organizer and unnaturalized alien, was arrested at Bingham and is being held for Department of Justice officials on federal charges. Six strikers were arrested for alleged intimidation of workers but were released when they promised to leave the state.

The men claim that prices have advanced at the company's stores without an increase in wages. No demonstrations have occurred thus far.

DISCUSS IMPROVEMENTS

GREATER GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION BANQUETS AT WHITE INN

About forty members of the Greater Glendale Development Association assembled at the White Inn last evening and partook of a well-prepared dinner. The business session was held immediately following the dinner hour, L. T. Rowley, chairman of the association, presiding. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read by Glen Ely, secretary. The chairman called upon J. G. Huntley to make a report upon the progress of the committee in their efforts to have a new boulevard opened and improved from a point on Broadway, near Pacific Avenue to San Fernando Road, at a point east of the old winery building. Mr. Huntley reported very satisfactory progress, but said that a campaign of education is necessary to have the property owners in the proposed assessment district understand the proposition as outlined by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale and the committee in charge.

After considerable discussion Ezra Parker made a motion that the Greater Glendale Development Association endorse the opening and improvement of the street according to the plan of the map on file in the City Engineer's office, a copy of

LORDSBURG, N. M., PEOPLE BUY GLENDALE HOME

Mrs. Hattie Gaylord's place at 1213 Stanley Avenue has been sold through the W. E. Mercer agency to W. Allen Wright of Lordsburg, N. M., who is moving his family in today. He will make extensive improvements and additions to the house. Mr. Wright came to Glendale to buy a lot for investment and possible future improvement, but was so pleased with the city that he decided he wanted a home here at once.

CLUB WOMEN RESPOND

Women who are interesting themselves in the Y. W. C. A. campaign now on were very much pleased with the response of the Tuesday Afternoon Club to the appeal made by Mrs. Daniel Campbell. When the cash turned in at the close of the program was counted it was found to total $50. The club had already voted a donation of $10 from its treasury, and besides the cash a number of pledges to be collected later were turned in.

FLOOD CONTROL WORK

VERDUGO WASH WILL BE HEMMED IN AS FAR AS L. A. RIVER BY MARCH 1

The flood control work in Verdugo Wash is proceeding steadily and is still ahead of the schedule. The channel is scraped out almost to the San Fernando Road bridge and the piles on both sides are driven to within about 200 feet of it. The protection work is to be carried right up to the S. P. culvert and from the other side of the tracks clear to the river. Mr. Daley said the river bottom had been entirely cleared of brush and shrubs and would make a fine park site. There is quite a descent in the channel from Pacific Avenue to San Fernando Road, Mr. Daley says, and that will tend to deepen it under the bridge and culvert. It is expected that work on the Wash will be completed this month.

This flood control work is having a result not anticipated when it was planned. This is the reclamation of considerable now useless land on both sides of the Wash, probably 100 acres, and the building up again of the lots on the north side of Arden Avenue between Central and Pacific avenues, which crumbled away in the big flood of February 14 to 20, 1914.

The P. E. Burbank line has been leveled and ballasted from the junction with the main line west to a point about half way between Central and Pacific avenues. There is a passing switch between Central Ave. and Brand. The new track is on a considerably higher level than the old and this causes a disagreeable bump in the Central Avenue highway, which will be eliminated when the new bridge is built there. The concrete abutments and center pier of the new P. E. bridge are completed and work on the main structure is being pushed.

BENEFIT VAUDEVILLE

HUGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS ENTERTAINMENT BY GLENDALE POST, AMERICAN LEGION

Members of the Glendale Post of the American Legion must have felt much gratified by the patronage of the benefit vaudeville show given Tuesday evening at the Palace Grand Theatre. By eight o'clock the house was packed from the orchestra pit to the rear seats in the balcony and many late comers undoubtedly were turned away.

It was one of the best shows of its sort that has ever been given in Glendale, but that was expected under the management of Joe Griffin, who is a clever producer and director known of old. A few of the promised attractions failed to materialize, Miss Vera Belle Chamberlin, Miss Josephine Fletcher, and the Elks' Club Quartette, but the substitute numbers were so fine that the audience experienced no disappointment. The Palace Grand Orchestra delightfully filled all intervals and furnished a most enjoyable program of varied compositions played with spirit and intelligence.

Mattison B. Jones made a brief introductory speech in which he explained the nature and purpose of the American Legion, reading the preamble of its constitution. Said he:

"Could there be anything better than that four million men—or the proportion that are yet living—should be willing to band themselves together to support and maintain the constitution of this great republic in order that 'might may not master right?' Is not that in har-

INFLUENZA IN GLENDALE

Sanitary Inspector Chobe reports that Glendale is in a much better shape as regards influenza than most of the surrounding towns. Only about thirty cases have been reported here since the disease was revived and they have been almost without exception, light cases, no deaths from this cause having occurred. All necessary precautions are being taken by city officials to prevent an epidemic and all preparations have been made to open a hospital should it become necessary. The health authorities are searching out all cases which have not been reported officially in order to keep control of the situation. The daily average of cases is three to four.

HARVEST OF SOULS

ALTAR FILLED AT REVIVAL SERVICES TUESDAY EVENING AT METHODIST CHURCH

At the revival services last evening at the First Methodist Church Evangelist Ross spoke from the text, "Come for all things are now ready." It was a strong appeal to the unsaved to accept the blessings of Salvation through Christ. The attendance was three times that of the previous night and the altar was filled with those who were willing definitely to reconsecrate their lives to Jesus Christ. The afternoon meeting today at 2:30 will be of special interest. Tonight Rev. Ross will again present the claims of the Gospel, which is proving "the power of God unto Salvation." Mr. Frank Cooper will sing. All are welcome.

THE PROPOSED MUNICIPAL SWIMMING POOL

For several years there has been much talk about the need of a community swimming pool in Glendale and now it seems the desires of those favoring such an affair are to be gratified, and that tomorrow afternoon the initial steps will be taken to establish a municipal swimming pool in connection with the new Kenilworth Park. As the Evening News understands the question of securing an adequate pool of this character it is not a matter that is being considered lightly by men advocating it. The importance of such a place for recreation for the young people of the community is an evident fact and the next important step is that the conducting of it be safeguarded in every way.

The management of the swimming pool and playground in connection with it will be under the direct supervision of the city and officers who will have full authority to make all arrangements to give the boys and girls one o. the most desirable places of recreation to be found in Southern California and at the same time it will be conducted in a highly orderly manner. The existence of such a place will fill a long felt need in the community. The boys and girls will be placed under proper supervision and will in consequence be attracted from our streets which is not the most wholesome place for them to spend their leisure hours.

This is a time in the history of Glendale that it will be possible for all people to unite, put their shoulders to a good cause and assist in promoting it. The whole scheme of the park and recreation grounds is an inexpensive one and forms a nucleus around which it is possible to build one of the most attractive parks to be found anywhere. The success of the whole matter now depends upon the interest which the people take in the new enterprise, and the seven years' acquaintance the editor of the Evening News has had with the people of Glendale is ample evidence to him that tomorrow afternoon at the location of the new park several thousand men, women and children will assemble to do honor to the occasion.

RAILROAD STRIKE SITUATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Attorney General Palmer today was studying the railroad situation to be prepared to act in case he is asked to intervene in the controversy between the Railroad Administration and fourteen railroad unions demanding immediate wage increases.

The Railroad Administration regards as illegal the order sent to 300,000 Maintenance of Way workers to hold themselves in readiness to quit work February 17th unless their demands are met. Officials of this union here today were planning an appeal to President Wilson over the head of Railroad Director Hines as a last resort before putting the strike order into effect, they said. Meanwhile Hines was to meet with officials of the unions to give them an answer to their communication handed him late yesterday.

FEW BUSINESS FAILURES

Whatever business men may say about the difficulties they experienced last year, it was certainly a good year for business. They may complain about it, but the facts refute their pessimism. The record of business failures is a more trustworthy index than the personal opinion of any man or group of men.

When business is bad, there are many bankruptcies. When business is good, there are few. Bradstreet's report of the failures for the first 10 months of last year shows that there were fewer failures during that time than for any similar period in the last 19 years.

The failures recorded for 1919 numbered only 4726. The nearest approach to this low figure was in the first 10 months of 1903, when there were 7804 failures. Moreover, the total liabilities of bankrupt firms last year were the smallest for 19 years with the exception of the year 1902, though business operations are now generally on a much larger scale than they used to be.

This low rate of failures is, of course, merely negative evidence of business prosperity. But anyone who does not consider it conclusive can easily substantiate it by reports of earnings in nearly all lines of business. There is little doubt of what the income tax returns will show. And there is nothing to indicate any worse fortune this year, provided business men keep their heads.

The total number of strikes in Canada during 1918 was 196, involving 68,489 employes and a time lost of 763,341 working days.

mony with the spirit of the American nation in entering the war in 1917?

"Two millions of the four millions are members of the American Legion, and I am told there is no more active legion in California than the Glendale Post. (Applause). There are eligible in this post a total of 175 or 180. It is my desire to see every man in this valley who wore the uniform, a member of the Glendale Post, which now has an enrollment of 136.

"Some of the boys did not return, and realizing as I think I do my sense of responsibility as an American citizen to those boys I believe the American people would be glad to see the appropriate inscription written above the presiding officer's desk in every post in the country as an expression of the sentiment of the American people: "Those who live, heroes; those who sleep, martyrs." (Applause).

Solos by L. T. Helpling, who has a beautiful bass voice, followed the address, his encore being "Mother Macree," which pleased greatly.

Judge Templeton, the author and composer of a stirring patriotic song, "The Emblem of the U. S. A.," telling what the boys of the U. S. A. can be depended upon to do with the emblem made a great hit, and he sung it effectively. He followed it with a monologue in which he compared his native state, Ohio, with California, to the amusement of the audience.

Spanish songs were then sung delightfully by Viola Yorba, to a piano accompaniment furnished by Ernest Martinez, both in Spanish costume, in which they later appeared in Spanish dances which were exquisitely performed and which won a perfect storm of applause.

The reception given James Corbett, the ex-pugilist, showed that the audience had been eagerly awaiting his advent. His appearance as a polished gentleman of the world was a surprise to many familiar with his triumphs in the prize ring. He is a fine raconteur and his ready wit advertised that he is a grandson of Erin without publicly acknowledging it as he did. His stories were all good and well told.

The dramatic numbers were also excellent. The first was the original playlet of Joe Griffin and Miss Adah Stahl, entitled "The Aftermath," a very up-to-date after-the-war sketch which seemed to have been created especially for an American Legion program. At all events it fitted wonderfully well, was clever in conception, well portrayed, and beautifully staged. The same setting served for another sketch put on by Messrs. Butler and Green, entitled "The Littlest Girl," a dramatization of one of Richard Harding Davis' Gallagher stories and one of his best ones. It also pleased the audience, which was again entertained by Mr. Griffin with the recitation of "The Yanks on the Marne," given by request, with apologies which were quite unnecessary.

The program closed with "The Star Spangled Banner," played by the orchestra, and everybody went home very much pleased with the entertainment furnished.

ed the city only to find that with the approach of the storm Mrs. Steelman and her sister, fearing washouts on the railroad which would make them prisoners, had taken the train Saturday night. The news was quite a blow to the doctor after what he had been through, but making the best of the situation after a few hours sleep he and his brother-in-law turned back and retraced their way over a roadless country from which the storm had obliterated all indications of travel. Stopping at one of the springs to get water they observed a man approaching who motioned them back and on getting near enough to speak to them told them not to go forward at once because there had been a cloudburst in one of the mountain canyons. Presently they were witnesses to the truth of his warning, for across the path they would have traversed it came, a wall of water four feet high which spread out three-quarters of a mile in width. Had it struck them the doctor figures they might have escaped with their lives, but the machine would have gone. About two miles distant it all disappeared in the sand and they went forward in safety, although the water had ploughed out ruts four to five feet deep in places. All the way home they ran through terrific rain and the two men blessed their luck that they were in a sedan sheltered from the storm. The doctor drives a Chevrolet, which he views with new respect. He did not buy it with any expectation that it would be called upon for rough work, but the way it stood up against the wind and rain and the way it negotiated the hazards of the trip have won the whole-hearted admiration of the doctor and his companion. Both feel that they have been wonderfully lucky. Mrs. Steelman and her sister arrived in safety and the doctor's wife is now at Thornycroft recuperating.

CLEANING SEED

By the use of a partial vacuum the United States Department of Agriculture has developed a hydrocyanic acid and gas process for fumigating imported seed more rapidly than heretofore.

TINDER FEELING

Said the near cynic: "When we listen to a speaker who is very dry, our natural conclusion is that he is punk."

SIBERIAN Y. W. C. A. GROWS

Over in Siberia a staff of Y. W. C. A. workers are slowly but surely making headway in organizing an Association and in interesting girls in the various activities planned for their benefit. Overcoming the mountains of difficulties which arise from the abnormal educational and social situation in Vladivostok has been a problem to be approached slowly and with eyes open.

The workers report finding a few people interested in the things which have to do with girls and with whatever information they have gathered they are carefully developing their activities. There are sewing classes and one of the workers is conducting classes in spelling and letter writing.

The girls who are studying English are particularly loyal in their attendance at classes. On one day when there was a heavy rain leading questions brought out the fact that not one of the girls had an nmbrella; one only had a raincoat, and one or two had overshoes. In spite of these few difficulties the girls manage to attend their classes regularly.

One of the secretaries, in telling of the hostess house which was finally obtained after much hard work, says: "Our hostess house is open, formally and actually, and a very creditable Hostess House it is. It is the first one, we are sure, to be made out of an old military storehouse, and the brick walls, heavy-beamed ceiling, small iron-barred windows, huge barn-like doors and thick brick supporting column make an interior not only unique, but interestingly attractive.

"The furniture is of light wicker and unpainted pine in the social end of the long room, while that in the canteen has been painted blue. The effect is very pleasing through the corn-colored silk curtains. Two fireplaces have been built and the piano, victrola bookcases, writing tables, chairs and settees, effectively placed, make the place very homelike. Special mention must be made of the beautiful extra touches in the shape of lamp shades, book ends and desk sets which Mis Rowland's artistic sense and skillful fingers have provided, and which add greatly to the homelikeness of the house."

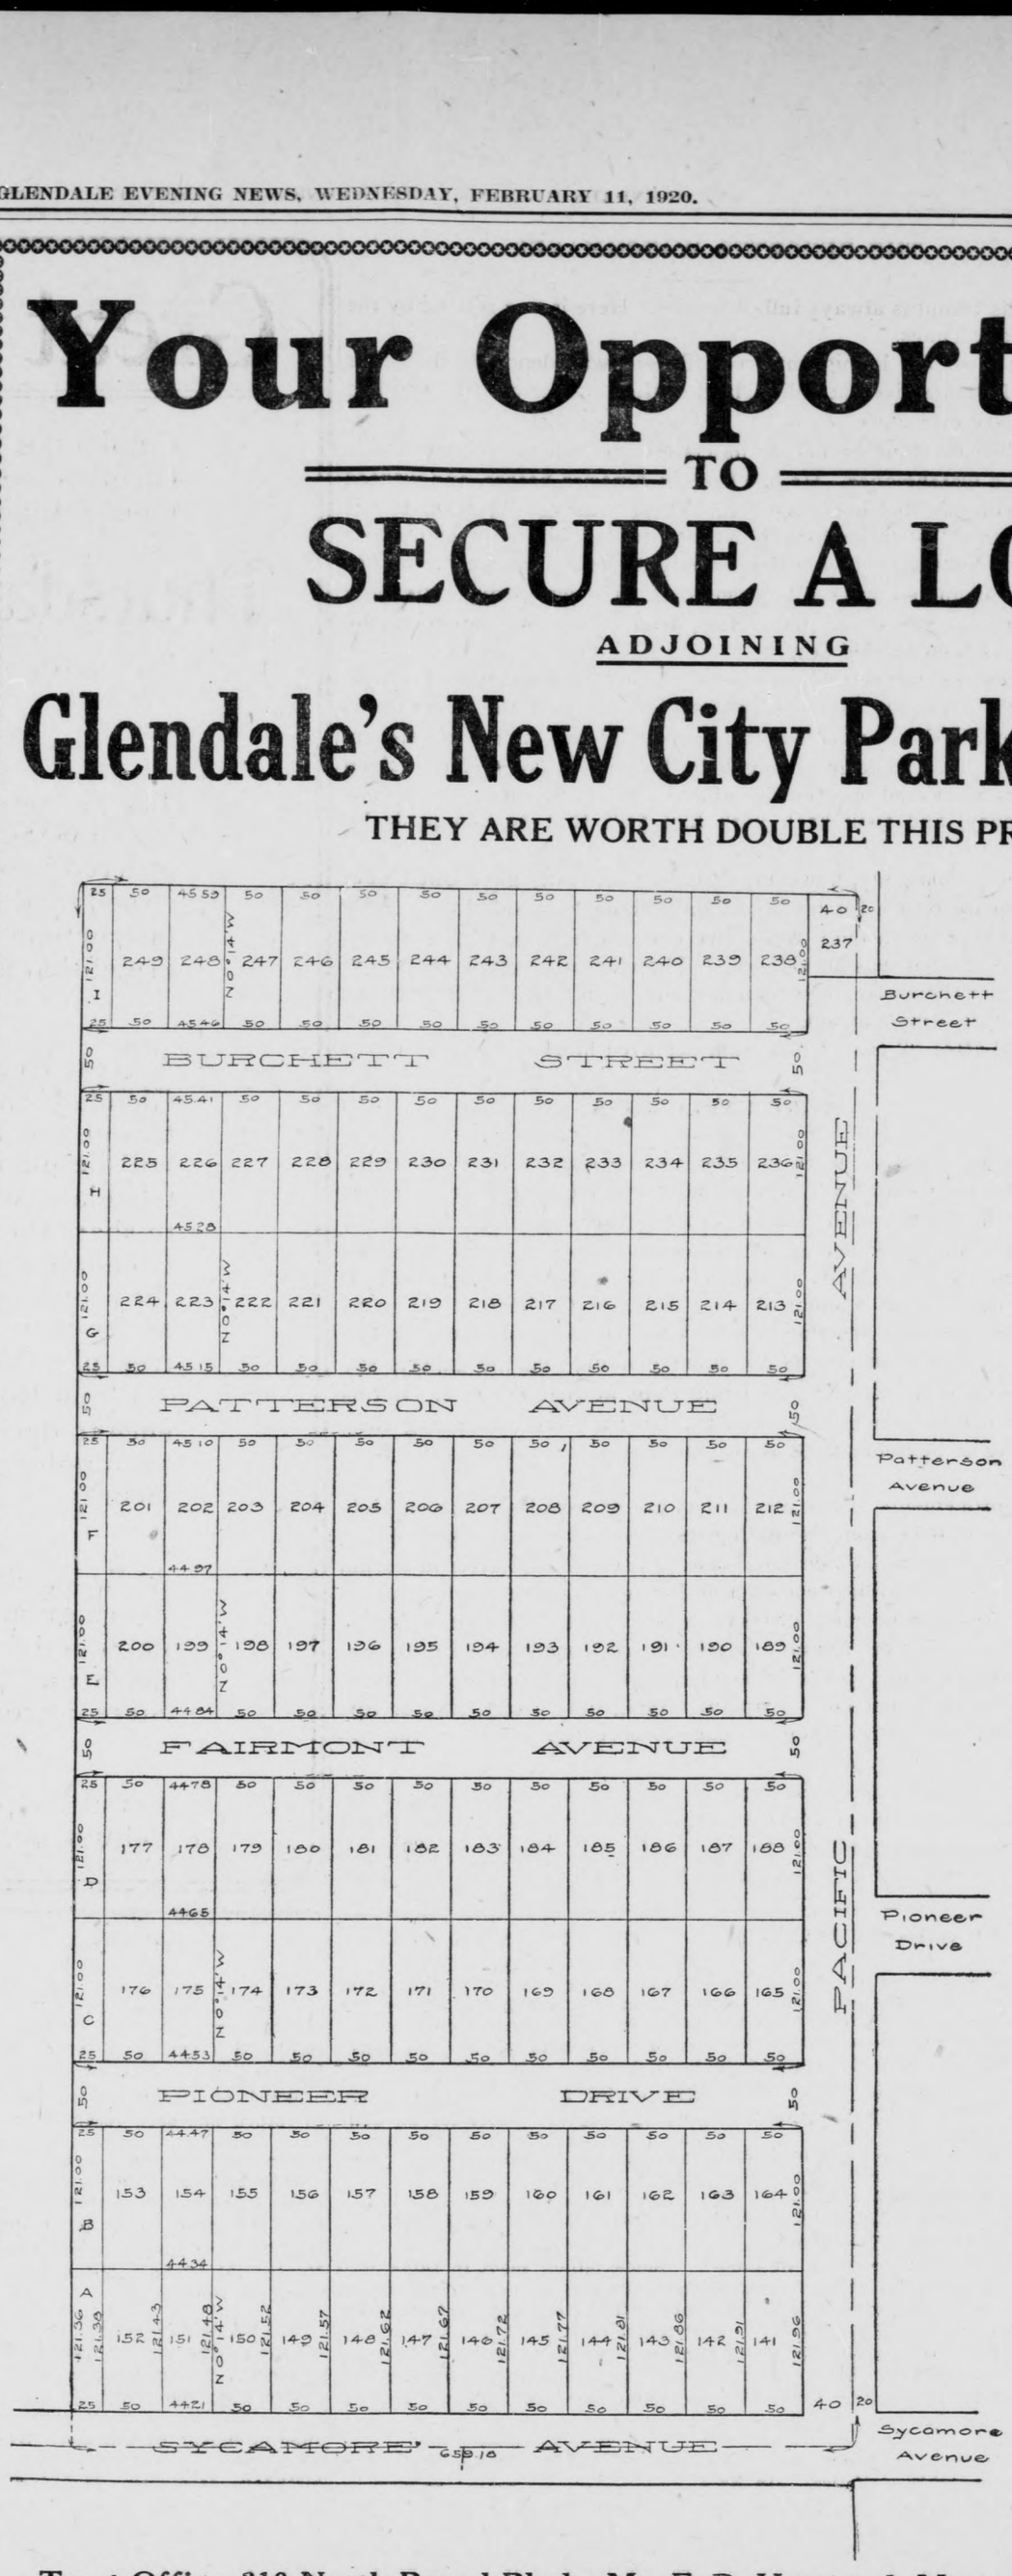
Glendale's New City Park for $400
THEY ARE WORTH DOUBLE THIS PRICE



This is one time the buyer is being made a present of about one half the value of the lot. This beautiful sub-division is located in the prettiest and most active part of Glendale and adjoining the new Kenilworth Park. Street improvements are all in and paid for, also gas, electricity and city water. A number of fine homes already built in the tract.

The adjoining cut shows the location of our Kenilworth Tract and the New Park.

As we explained in our previous advertisement, it was against our better judgment to put these lots on the market at this low figure, but the owners of the property being mostly non residents, are not familiar with the active condition of property in Glendale and advised us, regardless of our view, to sell and clean up the remaining lots in the tract. BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 11.—(United Press).—The Idaho legislature met here in special session today to consider the suffrage amendment.

THE DEPORTED WATCHMAKER

An Austrian immigrant from Trieste was deported the other day. He had arrived at Ellis Island in the summer of 1914, and had been there ever since.

When he came he had as assets $65 in cash and demonstrable skill as a watchmaker. He had been in America before, and wanted to remain and become a citizen. There was no objection to his character. The inspectors, however, finding him near-sighted—a result of his trade—feared that he might some time become a public charge, and so ordered him deported. The war, driving shipping from the sea, prevented that. Now, after 66 months' detention, the order has been carried out.

Thus the inspectors' fear may be said to have been realized, though not exactly in the way expected. It cost the government $5000 or $6000 to keep that watchmaker all this time. Apparently he might have made his living if he had had a fair chance. Even with the restricted oportunities of Ellis Island, he earned his spending money, and took back with him $495 that he had made by odd jobs.

The officials say, however, that the man really gave Uncle Sam an adequate return for his board and lodging in a side-line activity that he kept up through those five and one-half years of deferred hope. And what was his side-line? Showing other immigrants how to conduct themselves after landing, and giving them voluntary instruction in Americanism.

And after all that, Uncle Sam deported him!

WIRE EXPLOSIONS

Italian scientists were said, before the war, to have succeeded in discharging explosives several miles away by means of wireless waves, though the public was never altogether convinced. Any doubt of the possibility of such an achievement is dispelled by recent public experiments in England. A device at the Marconi headquarters in Cambridge set off a mine of gunpowder at Chelmsford, 33 miles away, by the mere pressing of a button. The same device is said to ring alarm bells on vessels 300 miles distant; and the experts say there will be no difficulty in firing guns at that distance. If this invention had been in use when the British were conducting their offensive at Passchendaele, they could have fired the batteries from London.

Improvements of the mechanism are expected soon to multiply the range of operation. If another war breaks out, it is expected that an operator sitting at a desk in Paris, can set off explosives in Berlin, or vice versa. Wireless waves from Berlin or London might blow up fortifications or business districts in New York. All that would be necessary would be a mine properly placed, connected with a wireless receiver, and a powerful sender, adjusted to the proper wavelength, at the other end. Airplanes flying over a city, ship or fort could explode mines likewise, and observe the result of the explosion.

This is just one of the little innovations we may expect in the next war, and another excellent argument for doing our level best to see that there shall not be any next war. There are plenty of peaceful purposes for the wireless.

UP GOES COFFEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(United Press).—Visions of further increased prices in coffee faces the public following the statement that coffee imports in 1919 doubled in value as compared with 1918, though there was but a slight increase in quantity.

A blighted coffee crop in Brazil, prohibition and a strenuous coffee advertising campaign are blamed for the jump, which will have to be met by every American household.

According to Department of Commerce figures 1,235,532,102 pounds of coffee were imported by the United States at a cost of $239,400,798. This is more than double what was paid for the 1,215,288,752 pounds imported in 1917. In 1918, 998,516,598 pounds were imported at a cost of $92,529,306.

Prices are still rising, according to latest monthly statistics. In November 108 million pounds were imported at a cost of $25,321,726. October figures showed coffee imported amounted to 102 million pounds, valued at $24,445,458.

Nowhere in the world does the business of growing chestnuts receive so much attention and involve the outlay of so much capital as in France.

THE PEOPLE'S TASTE

Who are by way of eminence the poets of all mankind? Surely Homer and Shakespeare. Now Homer formed his taste as he wandered from door to door, a vagrant minstrel paying for hospitality by song; and Shakespeare wrote for an audience composed in great measure of the common people.—George Bancroft.

SO HE HAD TO HELP

"Some fellers seem to think it is smart to forget to mail the letters their wife hands 'em," said the matrimonial martyr, "but I had my lesson. I forgot to mail one my wife wrote to her mother asking her to postpone her visit till we got our house cleanin' done."

Great Day for Glendale

Combining patriotism with civic pride the people of Glendale will commemorate the birthday of the immortal Lincoln

Thursday, February 12, 1920

with a program worthy the great occasion

FORENOON

The people of the city are urged to complete the planting of 3000 trees in the street parkways. The trees ordered heretofore in accordance with the statement issued by the Division of Forestry will be delivered with instructions for planting, today, February 11, and it is urged that all of them be planted tomorrow forenoon.

AFTERNOON

A great tree planting demonstration will be held at Glendale's new City Park, at northwest corner of Patterson and Kenilworth Avenues. Five hundred trees will be planted in the new park by the men and boys of Glendale, who have been and are hereby again invited to share the honor of commencing the improvement of Glendale's first Municipal Recreation Center. All of the people of Glendale and vicinity are invited to gather at the new park at 2 o'clock sharp to witness this great tree planting demonstration and participate in the "Weiner Roast" to follow. Then will be held a conference to devise ways and means for the construction of a swimming pool for the boys and girls of the city and vicinity.

EVENING

At 8 o'clock, in the High School Auditorium, will be held a great mass meeting as a fitting climax to the day's activities. There will be vocal and instrumental music and addresses by speakers of wide reputation. Stereopticon views will illustrate the theme of the day.

Let all help to make this Lincoln's birthday a great and helpful occasion for the city of Glendale.

STATE NEWS

PASO ROBLES, Feb. 11.—(United Press).—Ignace Jan Paderewski, former premier of Poland, is to return this spring to Paso Robles. He has extensive interests here.

Word of Paderewski's intention to return has been received by William Hemphill, manager of the Paderewski properties here.

It is believed Paderewski plans to resume his musical career in America. He spent most of his leisure time in Paso Robles before the war. He is said to have spent a fortune in aiding Poland.

SACRAMENTO.—Aw, some one's always taking the joy out of life.

Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, Job Wood, Jr., in a letter to Miss Lucy M. Young, county superintendent of schools, Weaverville, informed her that Lincoln's birthday—tomorrow—is not a holiday when schools must be closed. It is a day when exercises commemorating the birth of Linc ln must be held, said Wood.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Nick Daviscourt, grappler, who last week won the best two out of three falls from Fred Sherry, champion of Alaska and Canada, tonight meets Dante Petroff, the "Balkan Lion," here in Shuler's wrestling show.

Shuler is making efforts to induce either Joe Stecher or Earl Caddock to come here during the latter part of February for big shows. Jim Londos, the Greek champion, has already notified Shuler he is willing to meet all comers here within the next few weeks.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The Pacific Association's basket ball tournament opens here this evening in the Coliseum here.

Thirty-eight teams are entered in the league, the largest number of entries in five years.

MY BUSINESS

SUBSTITUTE FOR COFFEE

The Japanese have a substitute for coffee, said to be almost equal in every respect to natural Brazilian coffee. As result of chemical analysis by experts it is said that the goods are more wholesome than the natural bean, while retaining all its flavor and quality.

Robert Hawkinson is building a five room California house at 327 Ethel Street, to cost $1100.

Clinton Booth, who has been confined to his home by illness for the past week, is well enough for brief outings and hopes to be in his normal health in a few days.

Permits were taken out yesterday by F. W. Pigg for two five-room houses on North Jackson, to cost $5000 each, which he will build for Tom Furst and G. B. Woodberry.

Mrs. Anna Current, who was recently operated upon, is recuperating at Arbor Rest, 1209 East Lexington Drive. It is expected she will be able to return home Sunday.

Mrs. Kara S. Root, who was confined to her home by a bad cold for about a week, is now beginning to get out. Her mother, Mrs. Smart, is still a prisoner, but is much better.

Harry and Will Marple went down to the First Christian Church in Los Angeles last night to join the Glendale delegation that takes part in the training school held there every Tuesday night.

C. E. Russell says the five-line ad in the Evening News for the sale of his residence property on Lexington Drive brought swarms of buyers and resulted in the disposal of the place on advantageous terms.

W. R. Jarrett, who recently sold his place at 359 West Elk Avenue, is moving his household goods this week to Yucaipa in the valley of the same name, where the finest of red apples are raised. He has a small ranch in the outskirts of the town.

H. D. Garwood and wife, who came here from Rocky Ford, Colo., have bought and moved into the Vinton place at 437 Pioneer Drive. Mr. Garwood was engaged in cantaloupe growing for many years, and is an expert of national reputation on this important industry.

Mrs. Louise Purnell of 353 Ivy Street is very happy over the arrival of her niece and house guest, Mrs. Florence Lowe of St. Petersburg, Fla. Mrs. Lowe was here with her husband three years ago. Since that time he has died of influenza. Her stay here will be indefinite, as long as Mrs. Purnell can persuade her to remain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans and a group of friends are planning a pleasant holiday trip. They will motor to Riverside, going from there to Oak Glen where they will spend the night, returning Friday. The party will include Daniel Lesh, Daniel Lesh, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walker Moren and daughter, Katie, Mr. and Mrs. Evans and daughter, Katherine.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Van Loon of Huntington Park came to Glendale merely to look around, and were so impressed with the city that they returned the next day and bought the property owned by Mrs. C. Slonneger at 118 North Adams. The family will move in just as soon as they can get possession and will make some improvements to the property. W. E. Mercer negotiated the sale.

Charles E. Ellsworth and wife, who sold their home at 832 South Maryland Avenue several weeks ago, moved to one of the beaches yesterday to stay until they can find a home, in Glendale if possible. The house was sold again before they could move. Mr. Ellsworth's serious illness with pneumonia delaying them. He is recovering, but is as yet unable to resume his work as a shoe salesman.

Floyd Mercer of 319 North Jackson Street, a new resident of Glendale, who works in the Federal Reserve Bank in Los Angeles, is carrying his left thumb well bandaged on account of a painful accident that befell him Monday evening. As he boarded a taxi on returning from an errand to the postoffice the driver slammed the door shut too quickly, catching Mr. Mercer's thumb and crushing the end off. The nail was torn out by the roots.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Robinson entertained at a mid-day dinner on Sunday. The table was centered with fresias from the garden of the hostess and was dainty in its other appointments. Covers were laid for Gerrett Johnson of Grand Rapids, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ross and Miss Sarah Hahn of Los Angeles, and the host and hostess. Following the dinner a pleasant social afternoon was spent in the discussion of the single tax movement, and in the singing of old familiar songs.

Officials of the Glendale Post of the American Legion are immensely pleased and wish to thank the public for its generous response to the invitation to patronize their benefit entertainment at the Palace Grand Tuesday night. Every seat was taken and the returns will more than realize expectations. As nearly as they can be roughly estimated at this time they will run in the neighborhood of $350 to $400, clear, as the talent was all donated. They are apologizing (unnecessarily) for a few things which went wrong in the details of stage management, and are promising that next time everything will be perfect.

Edwin Hambly, Loren Noyes and Tip Whiting motored to Tia Juana over the week-end, stopping en route in San Diego.

Mrs. Wm. Theobald of 312 West Acacia Avenue received news this morning of the death of her brother-in-law, Mort Shanyfelt, of Okmulgee, Okla.

Mr. Du Bois, father of Mrs. A. M. Beamon, who has been at Loma Linda Sanitarium for recuperation for the past two weeks, has returned to his home in Long Beach.

The Public Service Department recently ran a two-inch water pipe west from the corner of Maple and Pacific Avenue to furnish irrigation for extensive vegetable gardens on the Ambrosini tract.

The Glendale building boom is extending even beyond its borders. Two very handsome six-room bungalows are nearing completion on the north side of Kenneth Road, near Grand View Avenue, and another is to be started soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan and Mrs. Sallie Braden motored to Covina Tuesday night to attend a reception and banquet to grand officers of the O. E. S. by the Eastern Star Chapter there. They report an exceedingly nice time.

WALTER HAWKINS AS CUPID

Lieut. Walter Hawkins, son of Joe Hawkins, of Glendale, has, in one week, sounded the extremes of aviation life. One day last week he piloted the airplane from which Earl Burgess fell to his death while doing stunts for a movie company. Yesterday he carried in his airplane an eloping couple fleeing from Los Angeles to Santa Ana. They all appeared before Justice Cox, not to be sentenced to jail for speeding, but to be sentenced to spend all their lives together. They plead with him to go up in the airplane with them for the ceremony, but he flatly refused to leave terra firma for anybody. Will it be Cupid Hawkins hereafter or is he winged Mercury?

FUNERAL OF SARAH H. BACON

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Westwood, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Sarah H. Bacon, who died so suddenly Monday morning, that funeral services will be held Thursday at 3 p. m. at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, to which all friends of deceased are invited. They will be conducted by Rev. Ernest Ford, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and will be in charge of Pulliam & Kiefer.

The death of Mrs. Bacon was a great shock to her daughter, who was her only close relative, and to her many friends here where she has lived and followed the occupation of a dressmaker for five years. Mrs. Westwood vainly tried to communicate with her mother by telephone on Monday and when Mr. Westwood returned from his business and learned of the fact he investigated and found his mother-in-law dead upon the floor of her apartment in her night robe, where she had evidently fallen after arising in the morning. Death had apparently been instantaneous, as there was no evidence of a struggle of any kind. When her relative last saw her alive on Sunday she was apparently in perfect health, and they had no knowledge of any heart weakness. The remains will be shipped to Waltham, Mass., her former home, for burial.

GLENDALE GIRLS TO DANCE AT SANTA MONICA

A number of prominent children of Glendale are to dance at a Valentine party to be given this afternoon in the ballroom of the Hotel Windermere, given by Miss Edith Lindsay for the boys and girls of her combined dancing classes. Orrell Hester and Dorothy Patterson will dance a "Scarf dance;" Carmen de Lara, a "Bird Dance;" and "Dream Visions" will be danced by Mary Prowell, Lois Naudain, Orrell Hester, Carmen de Lara, Dorothy Patterson, Sarah Chandler and Grace Yarbrough.

A recitation, "The Stars," will be contributed by Edna Mae Paul and "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," by Edna Mae and babies. There will be a "Minuet" by Peggy and Dick Cartwright. The rest of the program will be given by pupils of the Hollywood and Santa Monica classes, followed by a Valentine box with Gwendolyn Shattuck as "Cupid," and social dancing for all. Lois Naudain, who has been dancing the past week at the "Strand Theatre," Ocean Park, is winning new laurels and fast becoming recognized as a dancer.

CHAMPIONSHIP DEBATE

GLENDALE REPRESENTATIVES TO COMPETE WITH S. PASADENA AND ALHAMBRA

Visitors to Glendale Union High should not be seriously concerned if they overhear fiery denunciation or impassioned appeals echoing through the classic halls of that institution at odd hours this week for the leading representatives of the debating department are practicing for the triangular championship league debate which is to come off next Friday. Glendale orators are to be pitted against South Pasadena and Alhambra talent. Our local negative speakers, Jack Jenkins and John Worley, will go to South Pasadena. It will be Worley's fourth league debate and the third one for Jenkins, and those who best know their powers have the greatest confidence in their ability to make good.

Negative speakers from Alhambra will come to Glendale to be matched against Lee Wise, president of the Student Body, and Paul Hutchinson, who gave a good account of himself in the last oratorical contest. It will be the second debate in which Wise has participated. Hutchinson was in the team which won at Alhambra last December.

The question to be debated, which was proposed by Dr. Hunt of the University of Southern California, is: "Resolved, That Congress should so amend the Chinese exclusion law as to permit the importation of a limited number of unskilled Chinese laborers under bond to be returned at the expiration of five years."

Previous debates have eliminated Covina and Citrus Union and a triangular contest for the championship is now on between South Pasadena, Alhambra and Glendale. Glendale has two debates to her credit and six judges; South Pasadena has a score of two debates and five judges; Alhambra has one debate and three judges. It will be seen that if Glendale beats South Pasadena her championship chances will be very good. Glendale fans are very hopeful of the outcome both there and here.

PROTECTING A BALD HEAD

The query has been up by patrons of the Glendale postoffice as to why a panel board wing obstructs the entrance to the office. The answer has been finally arrived at that when the winter winds began to blow from the west there was a bald-headed man employed at the window and to have the door continually open without any windbreak might subject him to an attack of cold that would probably lead to the dreaded disease—influenza—and the postoffice department would be minus one of its best employes. Hence carpenters were secured and a very substantial but homely appearing panel construction was built diagonally across the doorway. Many have been the wicked thoughts and profane utterances from the minds and mouths of visitors through this doorway.

The whole blame was placed upon Postmaster-General Burleson and the Democratic administration, but now that an explanation has been made public as to the cause of the obstruction all is well and the patron of Uncle Sam who bumps his nose or skins his elbow on this piece of rough pine only needs to glance at the pleasant features of the bald-headed man who stands at the window to be reconciled. The public is ready to put up with any hardship to save the United States postoffice employe from the ravages of the flu.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Thursday. Light frost probable tonight.

LITTLE GIRL'S PRAYER

of the flesh with which he has been charged, declaring that he lived in too rarified an atmosphere for such gross materiality, and that "woman," in Persian verse, always represents an angel or some high attribute such as purity, sympathy, or forgiveness. Wine means not the literal juice of the grape, but spirit or soul. Persians always understand what is meant because they are used to imagery. Tavern does not mean a place of entertainment, but the earthly tenement. Her revelations of Persian life and thought were as entertaining as her comments on the poet, who, she says, is revered even more for his philosophy than for his verse. The charm of her wit, framed in the halting phrases of her broken English, it would be quite impossible to reproduce, but it was immensely enjoyed by the audience who voted her a "darling," in spite of her sly digs at what seem to her the weak points in Western civilization.

A fitting preliminary to the lecture were the vocal numbers by Mrs. Robert Yost for whom Miss Gertrude Champlain furnished the piano accompaniment. She sang most beautifully "The Song of India," and as an encore gave "The Temple Bells Are Ringing."

Before that Mrs. Daniel Campbell had made a most appealing address on behalf of the Y. W. C. A. drive now on, bringing home to every mother her obligation to this organization which protects and [illegible]s the girl away from home. Her tenants, Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Peckham and Mrs. Willisford, were summoned to the platform and introduced to the audience and at the close of the meeting they received contributions to the cause Mrs. Campbell had so eloquently championed.

The business session with which the meeting opened was prolonged considerably by discussion of proposed amendments to the constitution which were finally adopted and which will make possible the transfer of club real estate by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting at any regular meeting or at any special meeting called in accordance with the provisions of the constitution. The club has two lots which it wishes to sell and the delays in negotiating a sale under the old provisions of the constitution have proved an embarrassment to the Board of Directors, hence the amendment.

which was in the hands of City Manager T. W. Watson at this meeting, and that the City Trustees be instructed to send copies of the map with a circular letter giving a full explanation of the contemplated improvement to the property owners in the assessment district, asking that said property owners report back to the city as to their attitude on the improvement. The motion met with the approval of those present and was unanimously carried.

Upon request City Manager Watson explained at length by the use of the map as to the location of the improvements in the western part of the city and assured the association that it is his opinion the Board of Trustees will heartily accord with the request made in the motion just passed. G. E. Daley, assistant engineer of flood control, who has the past six months been doing extensive engineering work in Glendale, volunteered to furnish the necessary maps.

The City Manager presented to the association the question of widening and improving Los Feliz Road from San Fernando Road to Brand Boulevard, stating that the city trustees now have this question before them. A motion was made and carried that the Greater Glendale Development Association endorse any action the Board of Trustees may take toward the widening and improving of that portion of the Los Feliz Road.

E. U. Emery, G. E. Daley and Norton C. Wells were appointed by the chair as a committee to work out ways and means by which a road could be opened from the San Fernando Road, the west limits of the City of Glendale to Griffith Park. A recommendation was also made that the right angle corner at Broadway and Central Avenue be cut out by taking a diagonal course across the block at the southwest intersection of these streets.

J. G. Huntley was appointed as chairman of a committee to arrange for future meetings of the association. Mr. Huntley recommended that a monthly dinner be held on the same plan as the one in session, and upon motion it was decided that a dinner be held at 6:15 on the first Friday evening of each month. Mr. Huntley immediately proceeded to get the names of all of those who would promise to be present at the next dinner.

Before adjournment the chairman gave a cordial invitation to all members of the association and their friends to be present and participate in the planting of trees and the disposal of hot dogs at the new Kenilworth Park Thursday afternoon. He reminded those present that the swimming pool project is one of the live issues of the community at the present time.

Among those present who participated in the evening's program were Ezra Parker, C. D. Lusby, C. C. Cooper, H. L. Miller, E. U. Emery, G. H. Bentley, Glen Ely, L. T. Rowley, T. W. Watson, Norton C. POLO TO DEVELOP HORSEMANSHIP

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—"From the humble and inconspicuous role of a "swipe" in the stables, John Jones, freshman at Blank University, rose to the highest rank of university greatness today. Astride the pony he had been grooming and rubbing down for weeks he entered the game in the final period and after a daring Bill Hart ride down the field, with a skillful swing of the mallet he knocked the tiny sphere for a goal that gave the Blank polo team a spectacular victory over Ex-college in the deciding game for the championship."

This is an advance of some game, some place, some time in the future.

Harvard, Yale, Cornell and Princeton have adopted polo as an intercollegiate sport.

Last fall, General March, chief of staff of the army, ordered polo established as a major sport in all camps, posts and garrisons of the service.

Declaring that polo brought about "the development of horsemanship, skill and daring so valuable for all Americans," he urged that colleges take up the sport.

In all colleges where the R. O. T. C. is operated, the war department offered to furnish the instructors, the mounts, saddles, mallets and all the paraphernalia.

Twenty-four ponies, purchased in Texas, have been assigned to Yale and Cornell, which were among the first to accept the offer of the government. According to reports practice will be started this spring at both universities.

Princeton has applied to the war department for equipment and after a field is secured Harvard is to join the ranks.

Owing to the novelty of the venture and the inexperience of the teams no intercollegiate matches will be attempted for at least a year.

Polo for years has been flourishing in many of the larger army posts, especially in Texas. The success resulting there prompted the war department to put the sport on a broader scale and nationalize it if possible.

THE JAPANESE BIRTHRATE GROWING ENORMOUSLY

Concrete and convincing evidence of the seriousness of the Japanese race problem in California is brought to light through figures compiled by the State Board of Health which disclosed the fact that in recent months in Sacramento County, outside the city, Oriental children have been born in greater number than the white children.

In the months of October and November last, Japanese birth certificates exceeded by a considerable margin those of American children.

The official figures for the two months follow: October, Japanese births, 18; whites, 11. November, Japanese births totaled 185, compared to 58 white babies.

This not only means the birth rate of the Japanese is higher, but as a race problem something infinitely more important, that the Nipponese, in the agricultural sections of Sacramento county at least, are actually multiplying faster than the Americans.

In San Joaquin county, outside the city of Stockton, the records of the state show that during November 33 white children, against 10 Japanese, were born.

Data now being compiled by the Board of Health also seems to refute the theory that the infant mortality rate among the Japanese is usually high in this country. If November figures for the state are indicative of the true condition, Japanese babies born in California are as hardy and healthy as white children.—Monrovia News.

The head of the New York state college of forestry is urging a forest survey which will cover the whole country and which will make possible the development of a national forest policy to supplemeet the present paper shortage problem. He is convinced that there

His first reason for such a survey is its efficacy in helping to meet the present paper shortage problem. He is convinced that here are idle forest lands in the eastern part of the country which could produce far more wood pulp than is now realized. At present, because of the difficulty of procuring the needed wood from the far west, and because of ignorance of local resources, eastern states are talking of using hard wood for paper pulp.

There is great waste not alone in idle forest lands, but also in present wasteful methods of cutting, which cleans out new growth along with the old, leaving absolutely treeless areas where there should be thriving young forests. The proposed survey would indicate forest regions to be thinned out only, insuring conservation of the future growth. It would aid in meeting present wood pulp demands and at the same time would encourage reforestation instead of depletion.

If the United States allows its forests to be permanently destroyed it will face a bitter reckoning. And neither public nor government can plead ignorance of the dangers of our present practice. There is an increasing demand for intelligent forest conservation and reproduction of timber lands as well as for a more efficient use of present timber resources. The main thing is a unified and constructive policy, and the national survey seems to be a necessity preliminary to that.—Long Beach Telegram.

FEDERAL FOREST EXPERIMENT STATION

Concurrently with the introduction of a bill into the United States Senate by Senator Johnson providing for the establishment and maintenance by the United States Forest Service of a Forest Experiment Station in this state in co-operation with the University of California, the Division of Forestry at the State University today expressed the opinion that such an experiment station "would be of great importance to every one interested in California forests."

It was stated that the Forest Products Laboratory established about ten years ago at the University of Wisconsin, has not only developed into a large and important institution doing work known throughout the country, but that it is now the leading institution of its kind in the world. "There is no reason why the Forest Experiment Station proposed for California to enable scientific investigation of forestry problems should not also become the leader in its field," it was declared.

An initial appropriation of $25,000 is suggested in Senator Johnson's bill, it was stated. The work of the staff of the proposed station would be carried on in co-operation with the faculty of the Division of Forestry of the University of California.

THE PROLIFIC PENNY

The self-multiplication of money, when put at interest, is a common theme, but here is a notable variation of it. A mathematician with nothing better to do has been figuring out how much one cent would amount to now if it had been invested at the beginning of the Christian era, in Roman Liberty Bonds or something, with interest compounded at 4½ per cent to date.

He says that the humble copper cent would amount now to a sum which, turned into gold, at $20 an ounce, would make a mass of gold 100,000 times the weight of the earth.

Whew! Doesn't that make you feel like going right off and putting your pennies in the bank, or your quarters into thrift stamps, or your dollars into government bonds?

Suppose the traditional Wandering Jew had had an extra penny, and at the beginning of his wanderings had found a safe, permanent bank to deposit it in, or some secure, interest-paying investment. By now he would own the whole solar system.

The humblest toiler with a few dollars in the bank might literally own the earth, without the slightest effort of his own—if he lived long enough.

USE OF PLASTER BOARD INCREASING

Glendale lumber dealers report that the use of plaster board in place of lath and plaster has grown so amazingly in the past few months that they are weeks behind in their orders, although the only factory in Southern California making it is working 24 hours a day in three shifts. Not only is its use growing for inside finishing owing to the high price and scarcity of lath, but it has been used successfully for an outside covering for residence buildings. When surfaced with a light coat of plaster cement it makes a substantial appearance and it is said to be perfectly waterproof

The gimlet screw, which was the idea of a little girl, brought millions of dollars to its inventor.

Experiments are being made to use chalk marl, especially that which comes from the Limburg mines, as a fertilizer.

What Is More Restful

after the day's work or the outing than just to sit and dream before the open fire; to watch the fairy pictures in the flames and see the marvelous colors spring to life; to talk over the events of the day with members of the family; to visit with friends or to listen to music in the cheery glow of the grate fire?

These are dandy nights, just cool enough to make an open fire a delight. Make your home cheerful and the children will want to stay at home nights.

COLLANDER TUBE

"I don't know what's the matter with me," sighed Collander Tube, the great financier, as he yawningly affixed his signature to a document that would enrich him by an additional $4,000,000 in three weeks' time—"I'm getting to be so blase that even money, the greatest thing in the world, no longer holds a thrill for me. Such is life. Heigho. Alackaday. Oh, well."

And with lacklustre eyes he closed a telephone deal that entailed a cool million, and with bored indifference dispatched a telegram that would bring him a lukewarm $75,000.

"I think I'll quit for the day," he yawned. "I might make another million or so if I stuck around for the rest of the afternoon, but what's the use? Oh, dear, Life is stale, flat and unprofitable. Would that I could whistle merrily once more in my old carefree way! But money has lost its glamor. Shucks. Sugar."

And he slipped on his 40-pound fur coat and left the office. While passing Powder Pfuff's drug store he noticed a weighing machine and took a cent from his pocket, thinking, "I haven't weighed myself for a couple of days. I wonder how I'm feeling?"

And he mounted the machine and lo, before he had a chance to insert the cent, the hand flew around and weighed him free.

"Ho, ha, ha!" That's putting one over on 'em!" exulted Collander Tube. And, replacing the cent in his pocket, he went on his way merrily whistling, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."
